Grading and Drainage Projects on Southgate

A major link in Daly City's street system got the green light Monday night, as councilmen awarded a contract for grading and storm drain work on Southgate Avenue to Arthur Haskins, Inc., of South San Francisco.

The project will ultimately see Southgate extended from Cerro Drive to Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Haskins' bid, the lowest of five submitted, was $98,444.

The next lowest was $139,765, submitted by a Mountain View firm.

The engineering estimate for the work was $146,264—nearly $50,000 over Haskins' price.

Before the bargain-priced contract is actually awarded, however, councilmen decreed that three conditions set forth by City Engineer Art Reschke must be met.

First, an agreement must be signed with the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco, which owns a portion of the right-of-way for the new street.

Councilmen approved a resolution authorizing execution of the required agreement with Archbishop Joseph McGucken.

Secondly, Suburban Realty Company, another property owner, must pay the city $46,090, the firm's share of the construction cost as based on front footage along the new street.

Thirdly, the council asked for an agreement with the Doelger Corporation for realignment of St. Francis Boulevard through the company's property near Skyline Boulevard, to allow relocation of a PG&E high-pressure gas main which must be moved for the project.

In other action, the council concurred with the planning commission, and granted permission to Anthony Lizzio for a restaurant on the south side of School Street, adjacent to the railroad tracks.

In a study session, councilmen approved items for next Monday's regular meeting agenda.

That agenda will include public hearings on applications from four ambulance firms wishing to do business in Daly City.

Only one company presently has permission to serve the city.

S.S.F. Sign —A Blessing Or a Mess?

The South San Francisco City Council took official notice Monday night of a condition which has been evident to casual observers for months.

The city's famous sign on the side of Stonegate Ridge — or "Sign Hill," as it is commonly known — is a mess.

"South San Francisco — The Industrial City" has been reduced to a cryptic message as weeds, dust and soot have combined to obscure the huge letters on the hillside.

Councilman Emilio Cortesi told the council that he has had complaints about the condition of the sign.

Councilman Patrick Ahern, on the other hand, said he had talked with consituents who would be delighted if the weeds were allowed to completely cover the sign.

Referring to nature's gradual obliteration of the sign, Ahern wondered, "Is this a blessing in disguise?"

City Manager Eugene Aiello suggested that conditions might be improved when water lines are extended to the area and the letters could be washed.

However, he told the council that the city has never officially assumed maintenance responsibility for the sign.

The question was settled with the appointment of Ahern, the evident champion of South San Francisco's anti-sign force, to be responsible for tidying up the hillside message.

Ahern vowed that he would act — probably not right away.

In the meantime, he implied, weeds, dust and soot might complete the job they have begun.

'Teacher Disturbs Parents'

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees in Daly City Monday night recommended a group of parents, supposedly "disturbed" by a teacher, bring the matter up during an executive session oof the board sometime in the future.

The teacher in question was not named publicly, but Nick P.

S.P. Tie Into S.M. Transit Net Proposed

A "low cost" solution to transit problems in San Mateo County, involving maximum use of existing transit facilities, was outlined Monday to the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority.

Consulting engineer James Schmidt told Authority directors that it would be feasible to use the existing Southern Pacific system, made more attractive to encourage greater commuter use, as the backbone of the county-wide system.

SP, he said, could be either tied in with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District system at its Daly City terminal, or continued on its present routing into San Francisco but to a more desirable location than the existing station at Third and Townsend, or both.

No cost estimates were given, but Schmidt said it would be the least expensive of three alternate plans to be considered by the Authority. The second plan will examine the possibility of extending the BART system to various locations in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties. The third will involve various combinations of the first two plans, plus an entirely new concept—an all-rubber system using roads instead of rails.

Failure to make use of the SP system was one of the chief cri-

An Involved Jeff Shift Of Personnel

An involved game of musical chairs will take place on July 1 when nine top administrators of the Jefferson Union High School District take over each other's jobs.

In most cases, the transfers will be promotions.

Ernest Ribera, 44, now principal of Pacifica's Oceana High School, will become principal of Jefferson High School in Daly City. Ribera replaces the late John Mongan, who died in April.

Dr. Robert Watt, 33, will move into Ribera's office at Oceana. With the district since 1955, Watt is presently Oceana's assistant principal in charge of administration and instruction.

A story about the new Oceana principal appears on today's editorial page.

Watt's job in turn will be filled by Robert Gross, 32, who is the current assistant principal for guidence at Terra Nova High School, also serving as counselor, head of the English Department and Director of Student Adtivities.

Currently, Gross is district director of projects and grants.

Planners Reject Bid for Rezone

The Pacifica Planning Commission Monday rejected by a vote of 4 to 2 a rezoning request for property located at the corner of Linda Mar Boulevard and Adobe Drive from apartment to commercial.

The request, submitted by owner Victor Magrin of 1220 Desolo Drive, outlined plans to construct a neighborhood shopping center if rezoning was granted.

The majority of commission members voiced the opinion that the location was not suited for a commercial enterprise.

In other action, the commission rejected a variance request for conversion of a garage into an additional room submitted by Louis Cicardo, of 839 Dell Road.

Other variances were approved for Frank Lindberg, of 488 Goodman Road, an additional bedroom, and Harry McCune, of 1205 Springwood Way, a canopy over his swimming pool.

The city's Department of Parks and Recreation advised the commission that a request for federal funds, needed to aid in Pacifica's beautification program, had been submitted.

School officials said any questions may be directed to them by telephoning 992-4050.

Land Acquisition Action Is Near

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The Laguna Salada Union School District-Roalto Corporation feud over four acres of property earmarked for the Crespi Elementary School is expected to come to a head July 25 in the Superior Court of San Mateo.

On that date condemnation proceedings will start against the plot which adjoins 15 acres purchased earlier from Keh Royce at a cost of some $156,000.

Talks between the property owner and Laguna Salada Union School District officials have dragged since last September.

John Munt, assistant superintendent of the school district, said the completion date for the school had already been delayed "at least three or four months" and blamed the present stalemate on the Roalto Corporation.

The offered price for the steep, gully-laced Roalto property is $5,500, according to Munt.

"But they are asking about four times that much," he said, adding, "the only reason we want the land is to use it to dump our fill from the main construction site."

Munt said if the school site were located on the east side of the mountain range "there wouldn't be any problem in disposing of the dirt, because everyone wants it over there.

"But we're not on the east side and we must have suitable place to dump the dirt resulting from grading on the main building site," he said.

Even after the gullies are ported to lawmen that the trio, carrying a red, plastic gasoline container, came to the station shortly before 12:25 in the morning but instead of purchasing gas took the cash.

The station, the Marsillis Union, is located at 6989, Daly City.

Attendant Scapatici was not harmed. After obtaining the money, the robbers fled, gas can and all, east on Bismarck Street. They discarded the container, which later was found by police on Bismarck.

Daly City police said three men were stopped in the area of the San Francisco International Airport and quizzed, but after the service station attendant failed to recognize any of them, they were no longer detained later in the morning.

Burned Woman Is 'Serious'

A San Bruno housewife who caught her nightgown on fire while smoking in bed last Wednesday remained on the Peninsula Hospital's serious list today.

Mrs. Nadine Flack, 50, of 271 Lomita Aveue, suffered second and third degree burns over 32 per cent of her body in the fire, according to a hospital spokesman.

Jeff District Staff Shifts —'Involved'

Prior to assuming that job early this year, Gross served as a counselor, head of the English Department and director of student activities at Terra Nova High School in Pacifica.

Gross, a Daly City resident who has been with the district for six years, holds both bachelors' and masters' degrees from the University of San Francisco.

At Terra Nova, he also served as assistant principal for guidance, a post currently held by Alberta Carlin.

Mrs. Carlin will give up that job next week, however, to become director of guidance for the Jefferson district. In addition to her other duties, she has for the past five years been dean of girls at Terra Nova.

Mrs. Carlin, who has been in the district for nine years, has a bachelor of science and a master of arts degree from San Francisco State College.

Succeeding her as assistant principal for guidance at Terra Nova will be Philip Capitolo, 35, who has held a similar position at Westmoor High School in Daly City. He is presently a counselor at Westmoor.

In another series of interrelated transfers, Rudie W. Tretten, 35, will become assistant principal for instruction at Jefferson High School. Presently a counselor at Jefferson, Tretten has been with the district seven years.

Tretten will succeed Thomas Redmond, Jefferson's current assistant principal for instruction, who will become district principal of the adult and summer session programs.

Redmond, 46, has been with the district for 17 years. He is a graduate of San Francisco State, and has an MA from the University of San Francisco.

Redmond's new job is presently held by Louis Martin, 42, who has been named principal of the new Serramonte High School. Until the facility is built, he will serve as district director of special services to organize the new school.

Edward Cereghino, 32, now director of student activities and attendance supervisor at Jefferson High, will step up to the position of assistant principal for administration at Jefferson to replace Napoleon Triplett.

Triplett will leave the district to become principal of Placer Union High School in Auburn.

Cereghino, a Jefferson graduate and baseball star, has been with the district for four years. He has bachelors and masters degrees from San Francisco State, and lives in Daly City.

Teacher Disturbs Parents

Kucer, 117 Brooklawn Avenue, Daly City, explained that "eight or nine parents are disturbed about one teacher at Benjamin Franklin School."

He said letters had been sent to the trustees on the subject, wanting to know "why this particular teacher should be kept on."

Frank Greenwood, district superintendent, said that the teacher had been evaluated and that no change in status was planned.

Trustees told Kucer his statements should be heard in a private executive session, so the teacher could hear and defend any charges. He suggested Kucer direct a summary of parents' statements to the board marked "personal and confidential."

Kucer asked if all complaining parents could be present and was told they could.

The trustees pointed out that they would be in session every Monday night for some time working on the budget, and that an executive session could be arranged any such night.

In other business, the trustees added seven new teachers to the district faculty for the 1966-1967 school year.

Their salaries will range from $5,940 to $7,640, depending on educational background and teaching experience.

They are:

Mrs. Patricia G. McCann, Miss Katherine S. Dalley, Mrs. Brysis Buchanan, Miss Jacquelyn A. Gualco, Mrs. Patricia Chamberlain, Mrs. Judy Green and Miss Cherri White.

The board accepted resignations from three teachers, Lois S. Copriviza, Mrs. Kathleen Schweifler and Miss Sheila Calnan, and a librarian, Valerie Melnick.

Requests for leaves of absence were made by Carol Rothenbacher and Claire Riddle.

The administrative staff recommended that Mario Lombardi be named full-time counselor at Benjamin Franklin School, because of increased enrollment. He has been with the district seven years, counseling part-time this year.

No change was made in the administration's recommendation on classified salaries. A general increase of 5.6 per cent was approved last week.

Personnel for two new school projects also were listed at the meeting.

Gilles Wahlquist will be inspector on the Colma kindergarten-sixth grade teachers' facility, as well as on the seventh and eighth grade site development. Hales Testing Laboratories will make materials tests on both projects.

Harding Associates will do soil compaction tests at the facility project.

APARTMENT THEFT

The Misty Management Company of Pacifica reported to Daly City police last week that a carbine, numerous 35-millimeter slides and light fixtures and switches were stolen from an apartment building under construction by the firm.

ticisms against BART's plan for San Mateo County and was instrumental in causing the county's withdrawal from the district four years ago.

"The existing SP offers a high level of service," Schmidt declared.

He pointed out that SP operates at an average speed of 40-45 miles an hour, only about five miles less than that planned for the brand new BART system.

One of the possibilities presented by the engineer involves extending the SP line beyond the present terminal in San Francisco on to Market Street. Three alternatives were mentioned: (1) a line paralleling the proposed Southern Freeway, going north in the vicinity of Sterling Street on an overhead structure, then in a subway section to the vicinity of the BART-Muni station at Market and Montgomery; (2) an alignment using existing, trackage to Fifth Street and then north through an underground section beneath the Yerba Buena redevelopment project to the BART-Muni station at Market and Powell, and (3) a line via Seventh Street to a terminal near the BART civic center station on Market.

"Improved delivery to downtown San Francisco destinations is important to increase the attractiveness of the transit system," Schmidt said.

He pointed out, however, that extending the line beyond Third and Townsend would take "considerable capital investment." The idea of spending San Mateo County money for such improvements in San Francisco might not be very attractive to San Mateo County taxpayers, Schmidt commented.

The alternative to going into San Francisco on the present SP routing, Schmidt told the Authority, would be to re-route the railroad line at San Bruno to tie in with the BART terminal in Daly City. It would be necessary for commuters to transfer from one system to the other in Daly City, however.

If that alternative were chosen, the engineer said, it would be possible to service the Bayshore "corridor" with a special commute bus service.

The possibility of extending BART from Daly City to San Bruno and other locations will be discussed by the Authority next Monday.

Schmidt said it would be essential to operate a series of express bus routes on freeways and feeder bus lines collecting riders from residential areas.

He also proposed that grade separations be provided at all Southern Pacific crossings.

If a new downtown terminal for SP became a part of the plan, Schmidt said, it might be necessary to have "push-pull" trains, with an engine on both ends, because the trains would not be able to turn around.

Schmidt said he has talked with San Francisco and Southern Pacific officials about the various plans.

A master transit plan for the county, using one of the concepts discussed yesterday or to be outlined in future meetings, is scheduled to be completed by the end of 1967. Citizens of the county will be asked to vote on the plan sometime in 1968.

filled the 2 to 1 slope will be too steep for school building purposes, Munt claims.

"We plan to terrace this area and plant assorted shrubs and flowers on it. It will be a nice addition to the community," he said.

The immediate need for the facility could not be overemphasized, according to Munt.

"The school will not be ready until sometime in August of next year — and we could fill it tomorrow," he said.

Upon completion, the Crespi school will provide 15 classrooms and two kindergarten rooms, enough for 600 children.

Youth, 14, Injured In Car Crash

A 14-year-old San Francisco suffered head injuries last Saturday when the car he reportedly was driving left Sharp Park Road and plunged 25 feet over an embankment before smashing against a tree.

The condition of Tim Brennan, 2490 Thirty-eighth Avenue, was reported to be "good" by a Mary's Help Hospital spokesman.

Both Pacifica police and fire units responded to the 10:05 p.m. crash, in which Brennan was pinned inside the auto, reportedly stolen in San Francisco earlier in the day.

A 16-year-old companion was pulled from the car by two witnesses to the crash, John Walker, 983 La Mirada Avenue, Pacifica, and Sheldon LeWright, 42601 Isle Royal, Fremont.

The youth was taken to Mary's Help, but records there did not show him admitted.

The witnesses told Pacifica police Patrolman Richard Comollo they were driving behind the youths' westbound car when it veered over into the eastbound lane off the road and over the embankment. A tree some 25 feet down the cliff stopped the vehicle. Pacifica firemen, led by Capt. Dave Evans, pried open the car door and freed Brennan.

Police Probe Dress Theft

San Bruno police are investigating the theft of more than 100 sample dresses from the trunk of a salesman's car in a downtown city parking lot Monday.

Maurice Karp, a salesman for Kay Windsor, Inc., of New York City, told police he had parked his car in the lot, east of San Mateo Avenue, while making a local business call.

Karp said he noticed the trunk open and the dresses missing upon return to his car from Hagens of California, 548 San Mateo Avenue, shortly after 10 a.m.

The dresses were packed in three canvas bags, according to police.

In addition to the traditional competition in swim suits and gowns, the 1966 hopefuls will be joined by former Miss San Bruno Marilyn McCann Miller, who will narrate the fashion show.

A special feature will be the "airway strip," performed by a stewardess from Braniff International Airlines.

She will demonstrate the unique Braniff uniform, which features several layers of clothing which stewardesses successively remove as they perform various chores aboard the airplane.

The costume includes a plastic bubble helmet designed to protect the hairdo from the wind while boarding passengers.

The dinner—steak—is included in the $6 admission charge.

Each contestant will be rated on her performance in the swim suit and formal categories, and on her answer to an unannounced question to be asked by the Junior Chamber of Commerce masters of ceremonies.

The pageant is sponsored for the first time this year by the Millbrae-San Bruno Jaycees.

One of the new Miss San Bruno's first official acts will be to leave town; among the numerous prizes in store for the winner is a trip for two to Southern California and Disneyland, a gift from the Voyager Travel Service and San Bruno Realtors.

CSM Trustees Approve Faculty Salary Increase

Faculty salary increases averaging 5 per cent were approved Thursday at a special meeting of San Mateo Junior College District trustees.

But an additional proposal for district payment of $6 monthly premiums for group life insurance for the 278-member College of San Mateo teaching staff was tabled for further study.

The raises, totaling $183,266 for fiscal 1966-67, will push the teachers' minimum from $6,300 to $6,550 and the maximum from $13,570 to $14,260.

In recommending board action, Supt. Julio L. Bortolazzo noted that unless the adjustments were made, "the district will lose its position among the leaders in junior college districts and will be at a competitive disadvantage with San Mateo Union High School District."

"Even with these increases," added Trustee Francis W. Pearson Jr., "our teachers are still underpaid."

Eleanor D. Nettle, board president, while strongly in favor of the raises, was firm in taking a stand against district-paid insurance premiums.

"This smacks of paternalism," she said, "and we must remember that we represent the citizens of the district, many of whom are facing real hardships in trying to finance for their own families the same kind of protection we are being asked to supply for our teachers."

However, Trustee Robert A. Tarver pointed to a college staff study of employe life insurance plans which showed that an increasing number of area governmental agencies—including school districts—now provide at least partial payment of premiums.

The board decided to take up the matter again when salary proposals from other district personnel, including office employes, administrators, and cafeteria, grounds and custodial workers, are considered.

The board will continue budget discussion at its next regular meeting June 22 at 8 p.m. in the administration building on the San Mateo campus. Approval of the preliminary document is expected during that session.

'Witnesses' Seek Rooms

Russell Dixon, director of the rooming accommodations department of the Watchtower Convention, announced an intensified search for accommodations in private homes in the North County.

A house-to-house canvass is under way, with over 2,000 Jehovah's Witnesses authorized to participate in the campaign. The Candlestick Park gathering is scheduled for August 3-7 and is expected to draw 55,000 delegates for the convention of the religious group.

The phone number of the Watchtower Convention headquarters is 585-4787 and persons having suitable accommodations may call from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., daily.

Foot of Boy Is Run Over

A three-year-old San Bruno boy escaped with minor injuries last Wednesday when he darted from behind a parked car into the path of a motorist on Crestwood Drive.

Police said Wayne Baucheli, 1741 Crestwood Drive, stepped into the street, saw the oncoming car of Mrs. Shirley Mae Crumpler, and fell back.

The boy's left foot was run over by one wheel of the car.

Officers said that Wayne suffered only abrasions of his foot, ankle and lower leg.

Mrs. Crumpler, who was driving about 15 miles per hour at the time of the accident, was not cited.

By LE PACINI

WHAT LITTLE spare time there is in the life of Dick Coltrell, administrative assistant to Jefferson Union High School District Superintendent Ed Morgan, he spends on golf and general sports buffing.

Coltrell has worked up a comparative homerun table concerning numbers of HR's belted by contemporary sluggers in relation to parallel points in their careers to Babe Ruth's.

He chose for his study Ernie Banks, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Mathews, Willie Mays (all, strangely, born in 1931, and three-quarters of them "M's") and Hank Aaron (born in '34). Harmon Killebrew was ommitted from the list because, at only 29 years of age, his achievements, at this point, are too inconclusive for a reasonably accurate interpolation.

ONE'S NATURAL inclination would be to think that Mays, at this point has the best shot at Ruth's all-time mark of 714. Fans with long memories might remember that Mathews got off to the greatest start of any slugger when he hit 70 homers before he was 22. He still, as a matter of fact, has more HR's, in this, his 15th year in the Bigs, than any man has ever had at the same point of his career. But he's been steadily going downhill. And many forget that Mantle, until last year, had always had more HR's than Mays at the same relative point in their careers.

Mantle fans say he'd have beaten Mays had he been healthy, Mays fans point out that Willie spent almost two full seasons in the army.

The darkhorse of the crowd, though, is Henry Aaron. Hank, at only 31, had 398 homers going into his campaign, which promises to be his best. He's showing he can bounce back from what was, for him, a bad year.

At the end of last year, his twelth season, he had 30 more homers than did Mays after his twelth, he's thus far been as durable as Mays, and he's now playing in a much more advantageous park than any of the currrent pretenders to Ruth's all-time crown.

BUT DON'T be deceived. It's still going to be an extremely tough feat for anyone to crack Babe's mark because of Ruth's insatiable appetite for stretch runs. Just as Ruth hit a goodly portion of his 60 homers late in the season, so he hit a goodly portion of his 74 late in his career. AFTER his 14th season (his 60 homer year), the Babe hit 298 home runs, an average of better than 37 a year, including his final year with Boston in 1935, when he hit only six in 28 games. Ruth, spending the first five years of his career as primarily a pitcher, had averaged less than 28 prior to 1928.

Aaron, like Mays, will have to average about 35, including this year, to match Ruth, if he plays until he's 40. Aaron's advantage on Mays lies in his youth, and the fact that in his 13th year, Mays "dropped" to 38, while Aaron, in the midst of his 13th, appears on his way to his greatest homerun year.

One other amazing factor in Ruth's records. Even though he played 22 years, he was not, because of certain training transgressions, an iron man. He played 150 or more games only six times. Mays has doubled that figure already; Aaron is right behind with 10, followed by Banks at eight and Mathews at seven.

Perhaps the best gauge to Ruth's true greatness as a hitter, though, lies in the following facts: With all of the homeruns, he still hit .342, tenth highest on the all-time list. He struck out 1,130 times, walked 2,056 times. This means that, roughly, 40 per cent of the time he made contact with the ball he got a hit, and that he was either on base or hitting a homer something like 47-48 per cent of the time he was at bat.

THE GREATEST threat to any "legitimate" breaking of Ruth's all-time record lies in the fact that his pretenders know what they're shooting for, while he didn't because he was establishing his own records. In other words, say Aaron or Mays get up around 690-700 when they're 40-41.

Any club in baseball with an eye toward the gate would let them play on crutches if necessary until they beat that record, much as several clubs gave Early Wynn a shot at winning his 300th game even though he was obviously washed up.

But none of this agonizing theorizing would be necessary if Ruth hadn't wasted those years pitching. He probably would have hit 800 of 'em . . . at least.

OUR HUMBLE apologies to Pacifica's surfing bartender from San Francisco's Alcatraz Room, Dick HARBESON. He had told us, during our interview revealing his virtues as a warm-water surfer, that nobody had ever spelled his name right . . . HArbeson.

We informed him that we never made such mistakes. So in our next column his name was spelled HErbeson. For once we weren't at fault. Our original copy has it HArbeson. Somebody at the print shop didn't believe it.

OLD COACHES never die, they just become promoted and-or shifted administrators. As recently announced by the Jefferson Union High School District, Ernie Ribera (former Jeff track coach) is now principal at Jeff; Bob Watt (former Jeff track coach) is now principal at Ocean, replacing Ribera; and Floyd Gonella (former Terra Nova football Coach of the Year) is now principal of the newly conceived Center for Independent Study in Daly City.

BOB BRIAN, South City baseball coach, and Al Figone, Terra Nova baseball coach, have, with the help of others, formed a new North County summer high school baseball league called, what else, The Varsity Baseball League.

Figone, secretary-treasurer of the league (Brian's the prexy) and one of the real hustlers for kid baseball in the area, says that the purpose of the league is "to promote better high school baseball in the North County and to improve the caliber of baseball in the North Peninsula League."

A worthy and weighty objective. Following are this year's entrants: American Legion (Terra Nova), Levinson Bros. Insurance (Oceana), Eagles (Jefferson), Brisbane (Jefferson), Allied Cleaners (El Camino), Borba (South City), Meyer Safety Switch (Balboa, S.F.), Parkmerced (Lowell, S.F.), and Flying Goose (Crestmoor).

Now that Bob Shaw's a Met, it can be told. An unimpeachable source told us a story several weeks ago of a chance meeting with Shaw in a San Francisco bar Shaw, cold sober, told your source (also cold sober) and anybody willing to listen, that he was a Dodger fan except, of course, when he pitched against them.

Born in Brooklyn, Shaw figured he owed his allegiance to them. We wonder what he figured he owed Horace Stoneham, who gave him a raise after an unreasonable holdout seige.

We always say that you just never know what REALLY lies behind sometimes seemingly ridiculous baseball deals.

Agreement at S.S.F. On Oyster Point Marina Fill

The South San Francisco City Council met in special session last Wednesday evening, and approved an agreement for the next step in the filling of 70 acres of San Francisco Bay near the Oyster Point Marina.

The area is part of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes Industrial Park unit two.

Dyking of the area was done last fall, and since then a "drying out" process has been underway.

Soil engineers have determined that the land is now sufficiently dry for completion of the next step, which is construction of a four-foot thick "pad" of compacted earth fill.

It is this step—the first actual step in filling the area— that the council met to approve.

Work is expected to take about five months, according to engineers and the need to complete it before the winter winter rains begin prompted the special meeting.

When the pad is finished, additional earth fill will be brought in to complete the area.

City Attorney John Noonan explained that the agreement okayed by the council provides for city to acquire the project at cost, assuming that it meets all specifications.

While the original proposal for the filling was approved by the council last year, Noonan added, each subsequent step must be reviewed by the city, and must receive specific approval before work can be accomplished.

Automated Post Office Gadgetry

"NEITHER snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night shall stay these automatic devices from the swift completion of their appointed duties."

That might be the inscription over the do-it-yourself post offices that are to be placed in shopping centers. The units, open 24 hours a day, will sell stamps and envelopes, weigh parcels, and make out insurance forms. They will make change for dollar bills as well as for coins.

Inside the units will be gadgets that stack letters in a neat pile, with all the stamps in the same corner, and cancel them at a rate of 30,000 an hour, or about eight per second.

So far, so good. But what will happen to the 30,000 letters after the machine has canceled them in an hour? Will somebody pick them up in a truck and take them to the main post office? Or will they stay there for hours as mail does in many suburban mailboxes now?

Even at some suburban branch post offices, there is no pickup of mail from 5 p.m. until the next morning.

A suburbanite who writes a check in the evening and wants it delivered the next day frequently has no choice but to ride into town and mail it at the main post office zip code and all.

State a Window Into the Future

Samuel Chandler

"CALIFORNIA is a window into the future . . . Good or bad, hope or horror, California goes on leading the way."

Thus begins an article that consumes the entire June 28 issue of Look Magazine. It's full of epigrams—some shallow, some deep; many of them trite, many worth quoting. Here are some samples: "The coming revolution within the schools, if we may judge from California will . . . shake the schoolhouse to its foundations and overthrow the methods, the aims, the very substance of education itself."

"THE GAME is no longer to explore and conquer your physical environment, nor to build empires on the face of the earth, but to explore and expand yourself, your institutions and all of human possibilities to seek ever-receding frontiers in the infinitely rich and varied common countryside of humanity."

Try this one: "The turned on Californian has something very powerful going for him. He burns with an ambition that only a few years ago might have seemed, or might still seem, in most places, unrealistic or even implausible—and he gets results."

If you don't feel turned on maybe you will be happy to know that you live in "the first mass aristocracy anytime, anywhere." That you rub shoulders with "wealthy masses that are restless, not content to be consumers only. They've gone beyond the affluent society to lay the cash base for a new social order."

Did you know that human development—education—is the state's biggest industry? The average worker's educational level is that of a college freshman.

THE ARTICLE calls California an economy of knowledge. "Managers, technicians, high-skill experts and professionals (scientists and teachers) make up 39.3 per cent of the work force. The average factory worker adds $9.55 an hour to the cost of some products.

Of course the issue of Look has much to say about the right-wing radicals, the Berkeley riots, the changing morals, the topless waitresses, the junk heaps, and the situation in Watts. One page shows a shadowy figure with a pot of coffee and a caption reading, "California: a vision of hell and heaven."

The section on California fashions is strictly geared to Southern California—and I cast my vote to keep them there.

The article entitled "California: the swinging voters" by Richard Reinhardt dwells with the usual observations of the unpredictable and bizarre things that are part of California politics.

The article on ". . . burned-out Watts" is ominous. The discussion of Joan Baez and the non-violence crowd is revealing. George B. Leonard's "Where the California game is taking us" makes an interesting summary. "The pioneering new Californians," he writes, "are shooting for the moon and stars of human achievement. And they are willing to forego refinement for results."

As a Californian who hasn't reached the moon, I enjoyed the article on California food entitled, "Hamburgers, hamburgers, hamburgers, hamburgers, hamburgers." My mouth is watering to try a mummyburger with peanut butter, crisp bacon, guava jelly, and crisp fresh spinach.

AS A NEW-STYLE aristocrat whose California purse is still flat, I'm ready for a Frenchburger with caviar, thinly sliced cucumber, crisp watercress and French mustard.

The June 28 issue is Look's second special on California. The first appeared in September 25, 1962, issue.

Its purpose like that of the current issue was "to treat California not just as a state in nature or even a state of mind, but as a laboratory of social and cultural change. To see the future."

With such articles Look makes a contribution to American understanding.

The Marquee

Undisturbed In Woods

Barbara Bladen

Tucked undisturbed against a wooded mountain in St. Helena is a rambling, spacious home where the daily tapping sounds come from a typewriter, not a woodpecker.

It's here that author Arthur Hailey whose latest book "Hotel" will be next year's big production for Warner Bros. The Canadian built the house with his first million. He's probably already working on his second. Million that is.

Arthur and Sheila, the parents of three children, were my hosts in their beautiful home overlooking the Napa Valley during which time they related a success story that sounds like a movie script in itself.

Ensconced in an office, library, reception room study where he does his writing, Hailey recounted how his discovery by the book-reading public and the film industry began.

He quit school at age 14, flew during the war and went into sales work in 1954. His writing talents had been limited to technical writing for a trade magazine in Canada.

While on a flight aboard a DC4 North Star, he couldn't sleep and dreamed he was a rusty old fighter pilot who had to take over the controls of a multi-engine aircraft when the crew took sick. He went home, wrote it down and sold it to international television. It turned his life completely around.

Called "Flight Into Danger," it appeared on the CBC, the BBC, and NBC, was expanded into a book, bought by Paramount Pictures and released as "Zero Hour" with Dana Andrews and the late Linda Darnell.

IT SOUNDS EASY. In a way it was. Ideas just pour from the author's mind and his style is what the movies buy. He doesn't write to any formula or consciously think of movie profits and admits that an author must always guard against getting complacent.

When the market fell out of television writing, he turned to novels. "Writing a book, you accept suggestions and criticism, but the final decision is yours. Television writing is writing by committee. There are so many people standing around who feel they have to justify their existence by making suggestions. There are rewrites of rewrites. A joke in the trade is that by the fifth rewrite you can start putting your original pages back in."

Hailey has a very neat mind. And he's organized. Every line of research material is catalogued, every letter, every check stub and quote is at his fingertips. His charts on the characters of "Hotel" are masterpiecs of detail. Who is in what room, on what day, in what state of plot development are as well programmed as a computer blueprint.

The book has been on five major best seller lists for the past year. It's gone into 13 foreign editions. The paperback rights sold for $159,000 and the movie rights for $150,000.

Warner Bros. has cast Karl Maldein in the leading role. Rod Taylor, Melvin Douglas, Catherine Spaak and Merle Oberon are slated for the Technicolor production of a romantic adventure story in a plush New Orleans hostelry.

Hailey is philosophical about the way Hollywood operates. He was given a big fat additional fee to fly down there to work on a script outline. But after sitting around the pool of the Beverly Hills Hotel for a week and lunching in the executive's dining room while waiting for the studio bosses to contact him, he left for Acapulco and wrote a script in six weeks.

It wasn't until my visit did he learn that producer Wendell Mayes is being credited for the screen-play and that Richard Quine will direct. I showed him my press releases from the studio and it was all a big surprise. However, he was paid handsomely for his time and is unconcerned with "Hotel" now that he's deep into another novel entitled "Airport."

"I take about two-and-a-half years to finish a book. Six months for research and planning. There comes a point where you can't put off the writing any longer."

Dr. Watt–Profile of New Oceana High's Principal

By DENIS WADE

Oceana High School students will find a new face in the principal's office when they return to classes in September—but most of them will easily recognize their new leader.

He is Dr. Robert Watt, who has been at Oceana since it opened four years ago, as assistant principal for instruction and dean of boys.

Dr. Watt will assume the Pacifica school's top job a week from Friday, in a mass shuffling of Jefferson Union High School District administrators.

The appointment represents the biggest step yet in the career of the young principal. Just 12 years ago, he was a student teacher at Jefferson High School in Daly City.

That position followed his schooling at San Francisco State College, where he earned an AB in 1954.

Two years later, as a regular member of the Jefferson faculty, Watt had earned a masters degree from San Francisco State.

During his years at Jefferson he served as a counselor in addition to duties as a business teacher and coach.

In 1960, he was appointed summer school principal for the Jefferson district, a post he held until his selection a year later as dean of boys for Terra Nova High School in Pacifica.

He has been at Oceana since it was first opened for classes in 1962.

A doctor of education degree was conferred upon Watt this month, upon completion of this studies at the University of California in Berkeley, he was granted a sabbatical leave in February to complete the research necessary for his doctorate.

In spite of the demands placed on his time by teaching and administration duties and his own studies, Dr. Watt, who is 33, has still found time to raise a family.

He and his wife Darlyn live in Burlingame with their four children.

Linda, 9, is the oldest. Cindy, at nine months, is the youngest. In between are Mike, 7, and Susan, 5.

The children—those who are old enough—attend Burlingame schools. The Watts plan to maintain their home there, while the doctor continues to commute to Pacifica.

While he will find his duties and responsibilities changed, there will be little alteration in Oceana's administrative routine, Watt indicated.

For one thing, Watt has assisted current principal Ernest Ribera ever since Oceana opened.

"We worked so closely together and with department heads on the curriculum, that I don't foresee any big changes now," Watt declared.

That, he added, does not mean that Oceana will stand still.

"Because of the kind of leadership we had from Mr. Ribera," Watt said, "the school will continue to look at new ideas."

Among the new activities at the school will be the district's program for educationally handicapped students, which will be housed at Oceana in the coming year.

Other changes are a constantly expanding enrollment — up from about 700 the first year to an anticipated 1200 this fall.

Still, Watt said, Oceana does not face any overcrowding problem in the immediate future as do some other schools in the area. The four-year-old physical plant is designed to handle a maximum enrollment of some 1550 students—a figure that remains a few years away.

With no major problems facing Oceana, Dr. Watt can expect a smooth transition from assistant principal to principal.

Students and faculty can expect a continuation of the polices and administration that have made Oceana one of Northern California's outstanding high schools.

C.B.S. Prepares 2 More Fall Dramas

Bob Foster

TWO more outstanding dramas are being prepared for the coming television season.

This week CBS announced that after the fine reception given to "Death of a Salesman," several months back, it had decided to run a schedule of outstanding stage dramas on television during the next several years.

First of these new shows will be "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams and "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller.

John Reynolds, president of the CBS television network said, "The critics and viewer reaction to our recent presentation of 'Death of a Salesman' proved that there is a significant audience for serious drama on television. We consider it a distinct privilege to be able to schedule these two additional dramas during the coming season."

"The Crucible" and "The Glass Menagerie" join an impressive roster of dramatic and other specials for next season on CBS.

Dramatic specials already announced include "Ivanov," by Checkhov, starring Sir John Gielgud and Emlyn Williams in scenes from the works of Charles Dickens. Another special will be "S. Hurok Presents," a 90-minute tribute to impressario Sol Hurok.

The showing dates of the "Glass Menagerie" and "The Crucible" have not been set, but production will get under way in a few months. Both will be done in color and on tape.

KCBS, THE CBS-OWNED and operated radio station in San Francisco has been on strike.

Actually, the station has continued along its "talky" ways despite the fact that the big names on the station like Fred Goerner, Gordon Roth, Don Klein, Hilly Rose and Rolf Peterson are currently walking picket lines.

Some of the supervisory personnel who have taken the mike sound just a little amateurish, where others are doing an outstanding job.

If the strike isn't settled within a reasonable amount of time, look to see it spread to KNBR.

MANY YEARS AGO, when radio program experts tried everything at least once, the Zenith company sponsored a program telling of incidents which more or less has proved there is in fact extra-sensory perception in most people.

Commander MacDonald, president of the Zenith company, not only believed in this science, but was conducting extensive experiments using his floating laboratory, a 160-foot yacht.

Ever since there has been a number of ideas along this line for television programs. None have jelled.

Better Business

Vacation-Time Home Safeguards

Lorene Beasley

VACATION time is here and with it the perennial upsurge in housebreaking by thieves who specialize in robbing "dark" houses. A large increase in daytime private residence burglaries can be expected during the next three months, based on statistics of the past years and experience of arrests.

This increase is usually caused by vacationing juveniles, who range in ages from 12 to 17, and homeowners who do not take the proper precautions to safeguard their property during their absence.

Some cities have special police patrols on duty during the summer months but the homeowner's co-operation is the most necessary. Crime prevention is everybody's business and it is up to the individual to notify the police department when strangers act suspiciously and loiter in private areas of residences.

HOMEOWNERS can do a great deal to help safeguard their homes during vacation months by following simple precautions. The local police should be alerted of your absence.

Leave your address with them in case of an emergency. Make sure that all means of entry into your home are properly closed and locked. If you have close neighbors, inform them of the length of time you expect to be gone. Leave a key with the neighbor and tell the police who has the key.

Stop delivery of newspapers, mail or anything that may accumulate at your door. Make arrangements for such accumulations to be picked up. A lawnful of old newspapers and throwaways blatantly advertises the fact that your house is empty.

DO NOT advertise your absence with drawn shades and blinds. Leave them in a normal position. An inexpensive device which switches a light on at dusk and off at down is an excellent idea. If you do not want to invest in such a device, leave one or two lights on in the house. Arrange for someone to cut your lawn.

Try to avoid advance publicity in the local newspapers about a planned trip. Do not discuss it with your grocer. Someone might hear who would be very interested in making plans during your absence. Such information has aided many a residential robbery. It is always best to send valuables to a safety deposit box while the house is empty.

DISCONNECT all appliances whose operation are not essential during your absence. It is wise to make arrangements with someone to visit your home periodically to see that everything is in order, as freezers, pumps and other appliances operated by electricity are subject to stoppage. This could result in serious flooding damage or other damage due to storms or broken water pipes.

Store all combustibles safely. Have a happy vacation!

Fire Sweeps Apartment, Trio Saved By Manager

"It could have taken three lives so easily—I'm surprised it didn't!"

Those were the words of amazement by South San Francisco's Fire Chief John Marchi as he described the "miracle" escape of three persons—one a 1¼ year-old child—and a heroic rescue from a burning smoke-filled apartment at 6 a.m. last Wednesday at 410 Spruce Avenue.

Screams

Chief Marchi said Lee Sullivan, manager of the apartment building, heard loud screams of Mrs. John Ruiz, who with her husband, John, occupied apartment 7 below him, after Mrs. Ruiz awoke to find the bedroom burning and full of smoke.

Sullivan raced downstairs and led Mrs. Ruiz and her infant son, Frank Lopez, to the safety of the apartment where the manager and his wife live.

Then Sullivan returned to rescue Ruiz who had awakened while his wife and son were being taken out.

None of the three occupants or their rescuer, was hurt, although cautious firemen administered oxygen to the woman and child to help clear their lungs.

Hero

Marchi, who placed the fire blame on "smoking in bed" late the previous night, called it a "miracle that all three got out."

He explained that Mrs. Ruiz, when she woke up and after she grabbed her child, did not attempt to get out of the apartment.

"She just began screaming," the chief said.

As a result of the screaming, Sullivan was alerted to the trouble below.

"I think," Marchi emphasized, "that Sullivan was responsible for saving their lives."

Marchi had praise not only for Sullivan's heroics, but also for that of battalion chief Jack Drago and his crews responding to the fire.

He cited the alertness of the firemen, "who arrived before I did," quickly extinguishing the blaze before it spread to other portions of the building, owned by Frank A. Bengard of 449 Taylor Avenue, San Bruno.

Mrs. Ruiz and her son were taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco, where they were treated for smoke inhalation and released.

Bruno Firemen Making Annual Home Checks

Firemen in San Bruno are making their annual house-to-house rounds to alert home occupants to the many fire hazards to be found around the house.

A large project that takes up several afternoon hours daily, it is regarded by San Bruno firemen as a way to cut down on the potential fire fuels in the home and to add a greater fire safety awareness by the community's citizens.

"It is shown in statistics that it reduces fire losses," a fire department spokesman said.

The reception generally is good. Most persons appear to recognize the safety checks to be "for their own good."

"We have no problems," the fire official explained, "and you'd be surprisde how many questions they ask."

S.M. Teacher Wins Times News Award

Mrs. Edwin Wiltrout, a sixth grade teacher in the San Mateo City Elementary School District, has been named recipient of The Times "newspaper in the classroom" scholarship.

She will attend a week-long workshop on uses of the newspaper in the classroom, to be held at U.C.L.A. starting July 31. Her selection was announced jointly by Walter Jack, Times vice president, and Miss Lucille Turner, curriculum consultant and school district co-ordinator of the newspaper program.

Mrs. Wiltrout, who teaches at Knolls School, is among nine instructors who have been involved in a pilot program experimenting with uses of the newspaper in daily classroom work. Copies of The Times are delivered each weekday to participating classrooms.

This year the program has involved classes five through eight. An innovation this summer will be the use of newspapers for all summer school classes. This will encompass some 15 classes in grades four through seven, Miss Turner explained.

Mrs. Wiltrout was chosen for the scholarship award for "leadership demonstrated in the newspaper in the classroom program," Miss Turner said. Mrs. Wiltrout will assist Miss Turner in conducting "newspaper in the classroom" workshops next fall for teachers new to the field.

The award recipient has been a teacher in the local district since 1950. She was born in Nebraska and received her college training at Hastings and Nebraska State Teachers College. She began teaching before graduation in order to earn enough money to put herself through school. Her first teaching job was at a rural school in Nebraska, a position which paid her a total of $495 for the year. She finally accumulated enough money to complete her AB degree in 1939.

She began teaching in California in 1945 and the couple moved to their home in San Mateo in 1950. She later received her MA degree from San Francisco State College in 1959. In addition to her present assignment, she has also taught at Turnbull, Fiesta Gardens and Meadow Heights in the San Mateo district.

An Award-Winner

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER Mrs. Edwin Wiltrout, center, receives congratulations from Walter Jack, Times vice president. Mrs. Wiltrout, a sixth grade teacher at Knolls School, will attend a week-long workshop at U.C.L.A. this summer on the "newspaper in the classroom," a program that is sponsored locally by The Times. Miss Lucille Turner, San Mateo City Elementary School District curriculum consultant, and co-ordinator of the program, shares the good news. (Times Photo)

Chamber Out For Summer

School's out—and so is the chamber of commerce.

The Daly City-Colma Chamber will hold no more general membership meetings until—tentatively—September 15.

The board of directors will continue to meet monthly, however, although their July meeting has also been canceled. The directors will next sit August 14, according to the chamber.

Mechanic Burned In Car Fire

A 31-year-old mechanic suffered third-degree burns on his left hand, waist and forearms when a car on which he was working caught fire last Wednesday, Pacifica firemen reported.

Donald Fletcher of 56A Westlake Avenue, Daly City, was treated at the Milagra Medical Center, Pacifica, and sent home, after his gasoline-soaked jacket and arms caught fire while he was putting a volume tester on the fuel pump on a car at 10:30 a.m. at Cuyler Chevrolet garage, Pacifica, firemen said.

Fletcher told them at the medical center that there was a sudden arc and the gasoline ignited. He attempted to extinguish the fire himself unsuccessfully.

But, Pacifica Fire Captain Calvin Hinton, who injured a leg recently and is on sick leave, happened to be at the garage, and put out the blaze.

S.S.F. Police Probe Claim Of Beating

South San Francisco police last week were investigating the report of 30-year-old Arsenio Lovato that he was attacked and beaten without provocation by three young men.

Officers said Lovato was treated at Kaiser Hospital for injuries which included damage to the cartilage in one ear.

The victim, police said, told them he and a friend had emerged from the clubhouse of the El Camino Golf Club at 999 Mission Road about two a.m. Thursday, to find a group of youths writing obscenities on the friend's car.

Lovato was knocked to the ground and kicked in the head when he protested. His attackers fled, however, when another man—a former San Bruno police officer— came out of the clubhouse.

The ex-officer jumped into his own car and gave chase, but lost the suspects a short distance away.

Doctors reported that extensive surgery might be necessary to repair the victim's damaged ear.

Two-And-Two: It Equals A Minus $564

A San Bruno Toy Shop owner is out $564.85, the result of a theft which apparently took place three weeks ago.

Rudi Solomon, owner of Todd's Toys at 591 San Mateo Avenue, told police he discovered the cash missing along with non-negotiable checks, when his bank informed him that deposits had not been made for May 31 and June 1.

Solomon said he then checked with his clerks, who remembered that a well-dressed man in his early thirties had been in the shop about June 3, and had left through the storeroom.

The owner told officers he remembered noticing a file cabinet drawer appeared to be sprung at about the same time. It was the drawer where the money was kept.

Adding two and two and deducting $564, Solomon called the police, who are now searching for a well-dressed man in a brown suit.

'Octupus' Car Falls, Girl Is Injured

A car on a carnival ride fell to the ground at Pacifica last Thursday, injuring two 13-year-old girls.

Toni Ware, 515 Johnson Street, Pacifica, was reported by Mary's Help Hospital sources as "getting along fairly well" there today.

She suffered a head injury when a Foley and Burke "octopus" support arm bracket snapped, sending a car occupied by Miss Ware and Debra Nichols of Montara to the ground.

A Pacifica police department spokesman said the accident occurred at 5:50 p.m., as the operator of the ride was bringing the machinery to a stop.

The operator told police he had checked the equipment earlier, but while it was operating he thought he heard a piece of metal snap. He said he was slowing the machinery down as a result when the car's support arm and car fell.

Face Makeup Classes Set For Pacifica

A class in stage makeup will start a series of workshop sessions. Tuesday in the Community Room of Sharp Park library, Pacifica, at 8 p.m.

The classes, sponsored by the Spindrift Playhouse, are for both members and non-members at no charge.

Weekly classes will be held during the summer, with instruction and practice in acting, stagecraft and other phases of theatre work.

Participants in the makeup class were advised to bring mirrors and cleansing tissues by Nathaniel Marks, who will hold the class.

Marks is one of the organizers of the Spindrift Playhouse and director of its first production in January. He has also directed two full-length plays in Pacifica and acted in others.

Modern Touch To Heritage Foods

A cook who's original can have the best of two worlds—the inspiration of the past, the convenience of the present. Indian pudding's as old as our country, and so are some of the makings —corn meal and molasses. Other makings are modern—ever-ready, always available canned egg nog and new Danish margarine. Quickly crest with tufts of whipped heavy cream or ice cream for a dessert the family will favor today and tomorrow.

Egg Nog-Indian Pudding
(Makes 6-8 servings)

- 4 cups (1 quart can) Canned Egg Nog
- 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
- 1/2 cup dark molasses
- 2 tablespoons butter, or new margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- Heavy cream, whipped, or vanilla ice cream

In a 2-1/2 quart saucepan over low heat, scald egg nog. Slowly add corn meal; stir vigorously with wire whisk. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens, about 10 minutes; stir constantly. Remove from heat; stir in molasses, butter or margarine, salt and cinnamon. Pour mixture into an ungreased 10-inch square or oval casserole. Bake in a very slow (250°F.) oven 40 minutes. Cool to room temperature. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

Creamy Frosting Customizes Cake

Show a flair for frosting on the cake at your next celebration, be it a birthday or an anniversary. What's more appropriate than hearts and flowers—two heart-shaped layers arrayed in pink with bright-red flowers. The frosting from the Borden Kitchen is made in minutes with Danish margarine, sweetened condensed milk, and confectioners' sugar, then tinted to the times with food coloring. But don't confine such originality to just a few occasions—customize the cake by the calendar, color preference of the honored one, or the mood of the moment.

Creamy Cake Frosting
(Makes enough to frost two 8 or 9-inch layers)

- 1/2 cup butter, or new margarine
- 1 (15-oz.) can Sweetened Condensed Milk
- 6-1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring

Let butter or margarine soften at room temperature. In a large-size mixing bowl, cream until light and fluffy. Then, gradually beat in condensed milk. Add sugar gradually; beat after each addition until mixture is smooth. Add extract and food coloring. Beat until color is evenly blended. Spread on cooled cake.

Designed to maintain a perfectly-balanced atmosphere, perfectly-controlled humidity and temperature, the "C A" storage rooms have kept a select group of Washington Red Delicious apples as crisp and juicy as when they were harvested. Thus, science brings you Fall apples of tree-crisp flavor for Spring and Summer eating. Take them outdoors with you just as they are, or use them in this interesting and unusual Fresh Apple-Potato Salad, perfect for patio parties.

Fresh Apple-Potato Salad

- 3 unpared Washington Red Delicious apples
- Lemon Wash (1 tbsp. lemon juice in 1 cup cold water)
- 7 large potatoes, cooked in skins
- 2/3 cup diced celery
- 8 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1/2 cup ripe olives, sliced
- 3/4 cup chopped dill pickles
- 3 tbsp. chopped parsley
- 2 onions, diced (or 8 green onions, tops and stalks, sliced)
- 1 1/2 pts. salad dressing
- Salt and pepper
- Romaine

Wash and core apples, dicing all but 3 rings (cut from center of one apple) to be held in reserve for garnish. Dip apple rings in lemon wash. Peel and dice potatoes. Place diced apples and potatoes in a large mixing bowl. Blend in celery, eggs, olives, pickles, parsley and onions. Add salad dressing to moisten; salt and pepper to taste. Toss together lightly. Mound into serving bowl which has been lined with romaine leaves. Garnish with reserved apple rings. Makes 3 1/2 quarts.

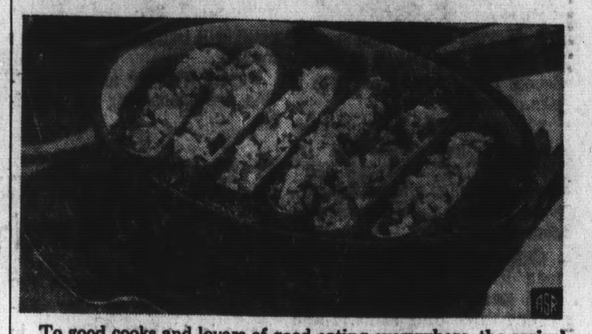
Use King Crab To Stuff Zucchini



To good cooks and lovers of good eating everywhere, the arrival of a new and special dish means added zest in meal planning and mealtime enjoyment. Here is just that special dish in a happy blending of Alaska King crab and fresh zucchini.

In this delicious meal-in-a-dish, Alaska King crab is properly the star. The added tang of tomato, bacon and Parmesan cheese makes this zucchini dish a must for spring and summer meals. A colorful gelatin salad and buttery hot rolls complete this easy-do menu.

Alaska King crab may be purchased either frozen or canned. The highest quality is always assured in either pack. Fresh crab is whisked from the sea to the package so consumers can be certain of freshness and flavor. Tendons are removed and the crab is completely cooked so it may be eaten just as it comes from the can or, after thawing, from the freezer.

Crab Stuffed Zucchini

1 can (7½ oz.) Alaska King crab or ½ lb. frozen Alaska King crab
4 medium zucchini
2 slices bacon, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 medium tomato, chopped
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon thyme
Dash monosodium glutamate
Butter
Parmesan cheese

Drain canned crab or thaw and drain frozen crab. Slice crab meat. With sharp knife, draw oval full length of zucchini. Gently cut out oval and scoop out pulp of zucchini with spoon. Parboil zucchini shells in salted water for 10 minutes. Remove from water and drain. Chop zucchini pulp finely. Sauté bacon and onion lightly. Stir in zucchini pulp, crab and chopped tomato. Add seasonings. Cook together about 3 minutes. Fill hollowed out zucchini with mixture. Dot with butter and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place in baking dish. Bake in moderate (350-degree) oven for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Have Cool Party With Coffee Punch

Southern hostesses are known for their gracious hospitality—and with good reason. The spirit of "open house" is always in the air and the shady veranda is a standing invitation for refreshments and relaxation. The soft spoken hostess, just as if she's read your thoughts, places a cup of coffee or frosty punch in your hand. Soon you are at least ten degrees cooler and much, much happier.

Whether it's an improvised get-together when friends stop by or an elegantly planned community affair, hot humid days call for the thirst-quenching magic of Southern Coffee Punch. The secret of this delightfully refreshing drink is cool, deep-flavored coffee combined with vanilla ice cream.

With weddings and graduations cropping up, southern belles from Savannah to New Orleans will choose this coffee cooler for their buffet table. Incidentally, when it comes to partying most of us seem to be southerners at heart. If you're faced with warm-weather entertaining, no matter where you may be, keep it cool with Southern Coffee Punch.

Southern Coffee Punch

2 quarts strong cold coffee
1 pint cold milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup sugar
1 quart vanilla ice cream
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
Nutmeg

Combine cold coffee, milk, vanilla and sugar in large bowl. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill thoroughly. At serving time, pour over ice cream in punch bowl and top with whipped cream. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg. Makes 15 to 18 punch cup servings.

Clam Rice Flavor Unique But Tasty

The flavor of Clam Rice is so unique that most folks who taste it for the first time think it is made with many ingredients.

But this main dish accompaniment couldn't be easier to prepare. Bottled clam juice and green onions plus butter and seasonings are the only flavoring agents used to cook the rice. The interesting taste is the result of steaming the rice over low heat until all the liquid is absorbed and the kernels are tender and separate.

It is unlikely that any Clam Rice would be left over, but if it should, cover it and refrigerate for second servings within the week. To reheat, add two tablespoons of water per cup of cooked rice, and cook, covered, four to five minutes. The reheated rice will be as tasty as the first time it was served.

Clam Rice

1 cup sliced green onions
1 cup uncooked rice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 bottle (7½ ozs.) clam juice
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Cook onions and rice in butter until rice is golden. Add clam juice, water, salt and pepper. Heat to boiling, stir once, cover, reduce the heat and simmer 15 minutes. Toss lightly. Makes 6 servings.

S.S.F. Ordination Held; 1st in Church's History

The first ordination in the 12-year history of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in South San Francisco was held recently when V. Michael Pease was accepted into the holy ministry of the American Lutheran Church.

Ordinator for the event was Rev. Elmer Laursen of San Bruno, father-in-law of the ordinand. Mr. Laursen, Protestant chaplain at the University of California Hospitals, San Francisco Medical Center was authorized as ordinator by Dr. T. C. Hanson, president of the Northern Minnesota District of the American Lutheran Church.

Pease will begin his pastorate at Shevlin, Minnesota, later in June. He is a graduate of Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa, and Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma, Washington. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne R. Pease of Sumner, Washington.

Liturgist for the service was Rev. Irwin Tweet, pastor of Our Redeemers'. Assisting pastors were Rev. Ray H. Farness, Grace Lutheran Church, Palo Alto; Rev. Kenneth D. Hansen, Westlake Lutheran Church, Daly City; Rev. George S. Johnson, Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Pacifica; Rev. Norman E. Nelson, Calvary Lutheran Church, Millbrae; and Rev. Lowell I. Torgerson, Jr., Ascension Lutheran Church, San Francisco.

Pease and his wife, the former Carol Laursen, will be visiting at the home of her parents, Chaplain and Mrs. Elmer Laursen in San Bruno.

Pacifica's Art Group Sets Drive

A fullscale membership drive is scheduled for this summer by the Pacifica Association of Performing Arts, known familiarly as "P.A.P.A."

Mrs. Jean Donohue, recently re-elected as president of the organization, has issued a plea for active support from present and prospective members.

"This support needs to be in the form of work, as well as money," she said.

People are needed to work on publicity, make posters, contact members, and help plan the coming season's programs.

Sponsoring memberships, which are $10, are listed on the programs. General memberships are $1. Rod Linhares, membership chairman, should be contacted for information.

Four outdoor concerts are tentatively planned for the Fall, 1966, season. They will be held at the Sanchez Adobe again, as they were for the successful series held in October, 1965.

Other events will be scheduled when the results of the membership drive are known.

Women's Chapter Plans Gathering

Seven Hills Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold its regular meeting at 8:30 p.m. today at the Lake Merced Boathouse, Skyline Drive, San Francisco.

Refreshments will be served following the program for the evening. All friends and members are cordially invited to attend. For further information please contact Mrs. Harvey Moss (564-0766).

YWCA Selects New Officers

The San Mateo County UWCA unit has elected new officers.

They are: Marilyn Vitale, president; Joann Briggs, vice president; Nina Addams, secretary; Carrie Futrell, treasurer; Gail Giacomini, publicity.

The Y-Wives also have begun their summer program at Westwood Community Church, Southgate and Elmwood, Daly City from 10-11:30 a.m.

British Food Revival Seen Best British

There was a time in London wren every new restaurant was French, Italian or even Indian.

No more. All the new restaurants speciialize in British Food. Parkes—which has been called one of the most remarkable new restaurants in the world, has sprung to fame in the past six months.

The Hunting Lodge, whose grouse and Shepherd's Pie bring gourmets flocking; Flanagan's, whose treacle pudding, spotted dick and marmalade roly-poly are bringing back almost forgotten traditions.

Stone's Shop House, where roast beef, saddle of lamb and heavenly Shepherd's Pie are making British cookery hold up its head again.

British cookery has never really been away, except publicly. It is coming out of hiding after a retreat to country farm houses and private homes. It's secret is good materials· simplicity, and care in cooking.

Its revival is marked by a return to the great dishes—like grouse, or Dover Sole, which are famous, and others either not so famous or for the most part badly done—like Irish stew, and surprise—boiled bacon and pease pudding.

The particular four dishes, for which the recipes are given below, are among the 12 which are featured in an unusual contest being mounted by the British Travel Association to celebrate the return of British cookery. It's called "Pick-a-Dish," and if you care to enter, it might win you a free trip to Britain· All you have to do to enter is give your first six preferences among the recipes—in order. For entry blanks, wite the British Travel Association· 680 Fifth Avenue, New York City 10019·

ROAST GROUSE

No one has ever been able to make a genuine Lagopus Scoticus (Grouse) happy anywhere else in the world except on his native moors. Unless you have access to quick-frozen Scottish grouse, partridge, squab or grouse, partridge, squab or even small Rock-Cornish hens are good substitutes. They may not reach the final pinnacle of dizzying flavor, but they are good enough for mortals.

- 2 young grouse
- 4 rashers of bacon
- ¼ cup port wine
- salt and peppe
- 2-3 stick of butter
- ½ lb. seeded peeled white grapes

Wrap each bird in two rashers of fat bacon, put ⅓ stick of butter in each bird Put in a roasting pan. Cook 25-30 minutes in 425-degree oven. After 20 minutes' cooking time pour port into the roasting pan. Baste frequently till the birds are done. Remove them to a hot dish. Reduce the gravy by boiling on top of the stove and serve separately with a bowl of the grapes in their own juice.

GRILLED DOVER SOLE

- ⅔ lb. sole, filleted
- ½ cup melted butter
- salt, pepper
- sprigs of parsley
- lemon slices

If sole is not available, flounder is a good substitute. Trim fillets, wipe with a dam pcloth, rub with salt and pepper, coat completely with melted butter. Put on a spotlessly clean greased dish and cook under gas or an electric grill, at broiling temperature. Cook inside first, each side five minutes. Serve garnished with parsley and lemon.

IRISH STEW

The secret of a good Irish stew is very slow cooking with very little water so that almost no juice is left and the meat is surrounded with thick tasty gravy.

- 2 lbs. mutton chops or cutlets
- 2 lbs. potatoes
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 cup water
- 1 lb onions
- 1 tsb. chopped parsley and thyme mixed
- ½ tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. salt

Trim off all fat and bones, cut meat into fairly large pieces, leave bones where meat cannot be removed. Peel and thickly slice potatoes and onions. Cut potato slices in half, put a layer of meat in the bottom, sprinkle over onions, then potato, half seasoning and herbs. Repeat until finished, ending with potatoes. Add water, bring to a boil very gently, simmer on top of the stove, shaking frequently to prevent sticking to the bottom of the pan, or bake in a very slow oven (begin at 250 and turn down till it barely simmers) for 2* hours or more. If cooked in the oven, serve in the casserole.

Baked Brunch Ramekins Fine For an Unusual Breakfast

Here's wide-awake food at its best. These hearty individual casseroles will start the day off right. Serve them to your family for weekend breakfast, or let these colorful ramekins star at a "come alive" brunch for family and guests as well.

Spicy pork sausage, eggs and Cheddar cheese are combined with a cornmeal-sour cream mixture made special with tomato sauce with mushrooms. Easy and fun to prepare, these casseroles bake in less than half an hour.

Serve piping hot with fresh fruit (melon slices and bunches of crisp green grapes are shown), buttered toast triangles with choice of preserves, and hot coffee. No one will be late for this sunny breakfast!——

BAKED BRUNCH RAMEKINS

- ½ lb. bulk pork sausage
- 1 cup cornmeal
- 2 teasp. salt
- ½ teasp. soda
- 1(8-oz.) can tomato sauce with mushrooms
- ½ cup boiling water
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup sour cream
- 6 eggs
- 1½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Tentative Budget Indicates Tax Hike at Pacifica; Mayor Explains

City councilmen at Pacifica are reviewing a tentative municipal budget for the fiscal year 1967-68 that indicates an increase of seven and a half cents per each $100 assessed valuation on the basic tax rate, laid primarily to a decided slow-down in construction work.

City Manager Karl Baldwin said analysis of the proposed budget will take until mid-July. The city must have its tax rate set in August.

The rate, based on tentative budgeting presented councilmen this week, would be $1.89 per hundred, compared with the figure of $1.815 for this fiscal year.

Both Baldwin and Mayor Harland Minshew saw the prospective tax rate increase as a result of a slackened building pace.

"To me," the mayor told Pacifica Rotarians Tuesday, "one of the most significant facts revealed in the budget is the realization of just how our economy is tied to the building industry."

Baldwin, too, estimated that the slow down in construction—which is resulting in less revenue for the city—probably is responsible for the likely seven and a half cent tax hike, because no major municipal projects are planned that would require the increase.

Minshew pointed out that 1965-66 building inspection fees had been anticipated at $65,000, but in reality the figure will be down by some $23,000.

Further, sewer connection fees were expected to reach $106,000 this year; yet, that, too, will be down—by about $39,000.

The anticipation for next fiscal year is $39,000 in revenue from each of those departments, he said.

Baldwin said the total budget expenditure—tentative, since councilman may trim or add before final figures are adopted formally—is $2,299,598, as against $2,284,543 last year.

Minshew also pointed to an increase in Pacifica assessed valuation, which reflects, he said, only the value of new construction, with no allowance fo reassessment of land of improvements, "and I might add with no reassessments expected from the county."

He told the Rotarians that "the true significance of all these figures is that we as a community can no longer on our assessments sit and play by ear, waiting for some God-sent philantropist on a white charger to stumble onto Pacifica and invest millions of dollars to benefit its natives."

Minshew emphasized, "We have to diversify our resources in assessed valuation," noting there are "many of us" who realize this.

"The problem," he explained, "is not so much in knowning the problem, but how to resolve it!"

However, he asserted, taking grants from the Federal Government may not necessarily be the answer.

Conceding that "without a knight in armor, the next best thing of late has been LBJ and his matching fund programs with the various labels," Minshew declared that the problems that confront his city "is that fact that it still takes money we do not have to receive money that is allegedly free."

He explained his view — "It may be a reflection of my personal feelings"—that Pacificans "owe it to ourselves and children to build an economy with what we know and our abilities, not on grants from the Great White Fathers in Washington."

Apart from immediate budget ramifications, Minshew said the City of Pacifica is using a two-year-old George Nolte Company county-wide study of city-by-city road needs to initiate right-of-way studies along the proposed Skyline expressway route, using gas tax monies to finance it.

"The object of this north and south alignment," he said, "is to allow the extension and intersection with the expressway both Fassler Drive and Linda Mar Boulevard."

He noted, also, the "immediate future" calls for the construction of Freeway 186, giving Pacifica a "direct link to the Bayshore and its benefits."

These benefits?

"With cross-county access into our area, the potential revenue from sales tax money and private investments into business property is bound to increase," Minshew declared.

Culture Plan Group Elects At Pacifica

Pacifica's ambitious new community cultural program got off the ground last Tuesday evening with the election of a steering committee and the formal announcement of its initial ventures: a summer program entitled "The Natural History of the Pacifica Beaches" and a foreign film series scheduled for early fall.

The newly-formed Community Cultural Co-ordinating Committee is the outgrowth of a common effort of local individuals and groups wishing to encourage a broad range of cultural and educational programs in Pacifica.

The Committee is working with Dr. William Miller, Director of Community Education of the College of San Mateo, under whose sponsorship and guidance the two pilot projects were developed.

The CCCC also has official sanction of the City of Pacifica, which granted it sponsorship by the local Park, Beach and Recreation Commission and charged it with the function of promoting cultural programs and related educational activities throughout Pacifica, as well as acting as the governing body for the Community Room in the Pacifica Library.

Instructors from the College of San Mateo's Natural Science Faculty will conduct the three lectures and one field trip of the summer program on the Pacifica beaches. The program will cover environment, plant and animal life and geology of the beaches.

The first lecture will be held on July 7, from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Community Room of the Pacifica Library. The series is open to the public and tickets for the entire series including the field trip are $3. Tickets for any single lecture are $1.50.

Robert Southworth was elected chairman of the CCCC at its first city-wide meeting, and his key committee members are Arnold Turner, finance chairman; Michael Haggerty, promotion chairman; Marita Spencer, secretary; Enid Emde, community calendar co-ordinator; Helen Casidy, College of San Mateo liaison chairman; and Constance Buchanan, advance planning chairman.

230 Bruno Mountain Acres Burn

Fire fighters from three departments battled a blaze on the southeastern slopes of San Bruno Mountain for more than seven hours last week.

The State Division of Forestry reported a total of 230 acres burned in the fire, which was reported shortly after noon Sunday.

The forestry sent three trucks and a bulldozer to the scene, while South San Francisco and Brisbane firemen also fought the fire.

The forestry crews worked along the top of the blaze while the city departments controlled the lower reaches along Bayshore Boulevard and Randolph Avenue.

"We believe the fire was caused by motorcycles hill climbing in the area," a forestry spokesman said.

Efforts to control the blaze, he said, were hampered by the steep terrain which made trucks practically useless.

The center has a complete department store, with snack bar, shoe repair department, dry cleaners, pharmacy, optometrist, beauty salon, liquer department and a complete nursery and garden department.

The first Alec Shopping Center was constructed in the Daly City/Colma area.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

RECENTLY a reader called and asked for an idea for a luncheon she was planning. She was anxious to find something that was different (she was tired of casseroles) and at the same time an entree that could be fixed ahead to allow time for entertaining her guests graciously.

This ham and beef entree fills all the requirements. I was happy to pass it on to her, and on to you good cooks today. It is an attractive and really an impressive dish which makes your guests think you've been over that hot stove for hours. When actually, it can be prepared early in the day and set aside to cook when you are ready.

HAM-BEEF ROLLS WITH FRUIT

three-fourths lb. ground meat....
½ cup evaporated milk or cream
¼ cup dry bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped onion
½ teas. salt, optional
dash of pepper
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 teas. prepared mustard
3 large thin slices of ham
whole cloves
2 Tbsp. butter
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup orange juice
1 cup fruit (more or less)

Mix ground meat lightly with evaporated milk, bread crumbs, onion, salt and pepper. Spoon one third of mixture on each ham slice. Roll ham around ground meat. Stud with cloves and arrange, seam side down, in a shallow baking dish.

Melt butter, blend in brown sugar, cornstarch, mustard and orange juice. Pour over meat rolls and bake in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes, basting several times with sauce in pan.

Stir fruit into sauce and bake 15 minutes longer. Cut ham rolls in half, makes six servings.

Note: Use fresh or canned apricots, pineapple, peaches or grapes.

ALONG with this entree I would recommend a simple salad such as slices of tomato and avocado arranged on lettuce leaves with a tablespoon of French dressing poured over each portion.

A dessert that can be prepared ahead and placed in the refrigerator is always a pleasure to make and serve. Whether you are planning a luncheon, a dinner or having friends drop in for dessert, you and your guests will enjoy this easy to make and serve dessert.

RASPBERRY DELIGHT

2 pkgs. raspberry gelatin
2 pkgs. frozen raspberries
1 large angel food cake
2 cups whipped cream (½ pint unwhipped cream)
2½ cups hot water

Dissolve the raspberry gelatin in hot water. Add the frozen raspberries and refrigerate until the mixture is slightly set. Beat very lightly, very lightly indeed, just enough to break up the raspberries. Fold in the whipped cream.

In a large bowl break up the angel food cake into small pieces, using a fork to tear the cake apart will help it retain its lightness.

Pour the gelatine and whipped cream over the cake, mix with a light hand (I'd advise using a spoon too) and pour into a large oblong pan. Refrigerate overnight.

I RECEIVED a call today about the Forgotten Meringues recipe that appeared in the paper last week. My reader wanted to know how one would bake these meringues in a gas oven with a pilot light.

Since I use an electric oven, and so did Mrs. Fraher who submitted the recipe, I will have to investigate what technique is best and I will report on my results in next week's column.

San Bruno Garden Club Meets

The Volunteer Fire Hall was the scene last Thursday of festivities marking the San Bruno Garden Club's thirty-first birthday.

A social hour was held at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Albert Marty, program chairwoman, announcing winners of the annual "Fresh Flower" hat contest.

Summer Is Camp Time For Bethel

Summer is here and so is camp time at Bethel Church of Pacifica. As a special program each year, the church has set up a campership fund to send their youth to camp.

Each year a contest is given in order to determine who will go to camp. For the past two years, to qualify, each student must have maintained a grade of 90 per cent or over for a given period of time.

Then a drawing of names produced the final winners. These are the winners for 1966: Miss Terrie Heitman, from the junior girls' class; Daniel De La Vega, from the junior high class; Donald Amrine from the junior boys' class, and David Canales from the youth class.

Because of previous commitments, Amrine will be the only one to attend. The remaining campership will be placed in next year's fund.

Sunday School Superintendent Richard Brown also reported that the loyalty program in which Bethel's Sunday School has been participating is almost over and with it the new visitors' contest. The award will be either an airplane ride or a Hover Craft ride. So far the only qualifying student is Miss Susan Banning.

The two teachers who qualify are Mrs. Betty Brown and John Canales. The contest will end Sunday.

Fashion Show And Social Tribute To Cancer Vols

A glance at fashions of yesterday and tomorrow will be part of the annual tribute to volunteers planned by San Mateo County Branch, American Cancer Society.

The group's 1966 awards luncheon will be in the gardens of the Hillsborough home of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Stephens at noon, June 30.

Mrs. Robert Boston and Mrs. Joseph Cooper of South San Francisco, branch chairmen of volunteer recruitment and youth activities, respectively, are members of the hostess committee.

Cancer Crusade volunteers will gather on the poolside terrace for a box luncheon and the fashion feature.

"Something old" on the agenda will be provided by Mrs. Thomas L. Leach of San Mateo modeling gowns from her extensive collection of period costumes. The look of things to come will be predicted by an informal first Peninsula showing of "paper doll" dresses—a group of the new throw-away shifts from the Wastebasket Boutique collection.

C.I.T.Y. Schedules Meeting Thursday

Community Interaction Through You (city) will hold its monthly membership meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Lincoln Park Club House on Acton and Brunswick Streets.

VACATION TIME is here and isn't it amazing the way the sun seems to disappear each year just as the children are released from class for their annual frolic!

Sunshine or fog, July 4 is always a sparkling day and the best way to guarantee your children will have the fun and excitement of an old-fashioned Fourth of July fireworks display is to purchase your own pyrotechnics, locate a safe area for a launching site, ice a watermelon and prepare for an adoring chorus of "oohs" and "aahs" from the small fry.

Starting next Tuesday at 11 am. the men and women of Our Lady of Mercy Catholic church will be staffing a huge candy striped sales tent where those planning their own family celebration will be able to purchase a vast variety of safe and sane fireworks. Everything from Piccolo Petes to super size displays will be sold.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Phillip Glebow, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women, the colorful tent will be located in the southwest corner of the Westlake Shopping Center on the corner of Lake Merced Boulevard and Southgate Avenue. The proceeds of all the sales will become a part of the church's building fund.

Dan Cummings and Al Swadley are the co-chairmen of this final festival event and are charged with keeping salesmen on the job from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily until the Fourth. Members of the Westlake Catholic Women have volunteered to work as salesladies between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. when members of the Men's club will relieve them.

Early shoppers will benefit from the size of the assortment available, Mrs. Glebow assures us.

THE FIRST OF THE JEFFERSON Elementary School District preschool programs will come to an end June 30, according to Mrs. John Madrosen, the distric's summer teacher assigned to the special project.

Lawrence Sheppard, director of the project which operates with compensitory funds from the State of California, stated that the development of the preschool program is the most exciting and worthwhile aspect of education today.

"With the knowledge garnered from the present pilot program we will now expand to two classes at General Pershing School during July and August and hopefully we will soon be able to expand to four classes to be in operation on a year around basis," Sheppard said.

Anyone interested in this remarkable new teaching effort is urged to call Mrs. Madrosen, PL 5-9765, for more information.

JUNE OF 1966 will be a month that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guidotti of Monte Rio may never forget!

The Guidottis were married fifty years ago this Saturday not far from the little Russian River community where they now make their home. They raised their children, visited neighbors and went to church in the beautiful resort area and nurtured lasting friendships. Saturday their three remaining offspring, their respective spouses and their eight grandchildren, will host a golden wedding anniversary celebration for the senior Guidottis and approximately 200 of their friends.

BUSY WITH the preparations for the great day are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kramer and children Kim, Robin, Ann and Lisa, all of Westlake; Mr. and Mrs. George Guidotti and Children Karen, Leslie, David and Mr. and Mrs. James Guidotti; all of San Bruno; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Olson of Phoenix, Arizona. The Olsons' children, Tim, Kim, Robin and Sue remained in Arizona.

While the anniversary will be the largest celebration this month it is not the only one. Their daughter, Mrs. Doris Kramer celebrated her birthday June 14 and her daughter Kim graduated from Westmoor on June 16. Karen Guidotti also graduated this month and last Friday celebrated the event with a graduation party which turned out to also be the occasion for her to announce her engagement. With so much happening Father's Day almost, but not quite, passed unnoticed!

BETHEL 348, Job's Daughters, held an inspection by Mrs. Lucy Warren, Deputy Grand Guardian of the State of California, and an initiation of new members on Monday evening.

June is a busy one for the girls according to Kathleen Parvin, publicity chairman, who reports that the bethel observed Father's Day with a Father-Daughter breakfast in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warren.

Poetry As 'Music' Is Explained To Pacifica Writers

An explanation of poetry as "music of the mind," as demonstrated by the writing of a member of The Writers Workshop of Pacifica, was one of the features of the group's recent meeting.

Another highlight was critique of an offering of decorating hints interwoven in a narrative. The group met at the home of Nathaniel Marks, 1516 Terra Nova Boulevard, director of the workshop.

Analysis and helpful criticism of the works of workshop participants is the main business of the meetings. Beginners as well as published authors are in the membership. There is no fee.

Educational TV
A 'Supplement'

A recent report made to the Laguna Salada Union School District warned teachers that television programs viewed over the instructional TV channel were "not and end in themselves."

The programs, telecast throughout the Bay Area, are designed primarily to supplement and enrich a school's curriculum, the report pointed out.

The use of instructional television in the classroom cannot be justified if it duplicates studies presently in effect. Instead, the ITV programs must be integrated into the total educational environment, the report added.

More than 200,000 public and private school students now use the ITV courses. Elementary subjects include mathematics, foreign languages, science, geography, history and curent events.

The most impotant step in utilization of the ITV system, according to the report, is "class followup" by the teacher.

Teachers would be required to pre-select programs suited .o the grade level of the class involved, plus building the class unit around the program.

Twenty-four instructional programs have been offered to Bay Area students so far this year. Two of the program series were presented last fall and repeated this spring.

The Farr-Quimby Act, which passed the Legislature earlie- this month, provides for schools to be reimbursed up to 50 per cent on costs incurred as a result of ITV programming used in the education of students.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

"Cavities"

There are millions of bacteria in your mouth. Some are quite harmful because they act on sugars and other carbohydrates to form acids. These acids dissolve the enamel of the teeth. That is the beginning of tooth decay.

Unless decay is stopped by a dentist, who removes the decayed portion of the tooth and puts in a filling, decay proceeds from the enamel into the dentin and then into the pulp. Once the pulp has been infected, it may be too late to save the tooth.

Have your dentist check your teeth and take care of any cavities that may be present.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Family Escapes Flaming House

A cigarette possibly caused a fire that charred portions of the interior of a Daly City home early last Wednesday.

The damage to the James Hallaron residence at 499 Crocker Avenue was extensive, both from flame and smoke, firemen said.

However, Hallaron, his wife and three children escaped, without assistance, and unhurt.

A fire department spokesman at Daly City's Station Two said Mrs. Hallaron and the youngsters went to bed, in the same bedroom, after watching television there, leaving Hallaron alone in the living room.

At 12:02 a.m., Mrs. Hallaron awakened to the strong smell of smoke. Investigating, she found the living room-dining room area filled with dense smoke. She opened the front door and returned to the bedroom to get the children, and left the wood-frame stucco house by the basement stairway.

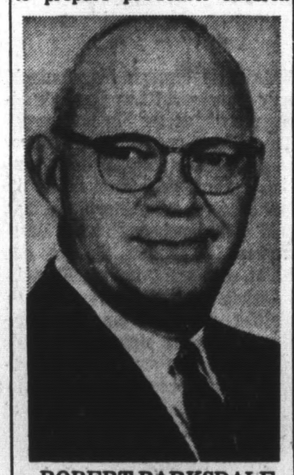
Her husband, in the meantime, was in the bathroom, unaware of the fire—apparently not smelling the smoke—until he returned to the hallway. Then he left the house via the basement.

Flames, firemen recalled, shot spectacularly out a large front window as firemen arrived to begin an hour and 45-minute battle in the night.

Cause of the fire tentatively is attributed to a cigarette that apparently dropped in a sofa in the living room.

Laguna Salada Head Start Program Starts Enrollment

Project Head Start, an eight-week summer course designed to prepare pre-school children for kindergarten, is accepting enrollment applications, a Laguna Salada School District spokesman said.



ROBERT BARKSDALE

The enrollment will be limited to 20 students on a first-come-first-serve basis, school officials said.

Each class is designed to prepare pre-school children who have never attended school for first grade or kindergarten classes in September.

Project Head Start is scheduled to get under way July 5 at the Westview School in Pacifica.

The classes are made possible by a federal grant through the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington.

Parents desiring additional information may contact the Westview School between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., weekdays.

A Real Test Of an Auto At San Bruno

One of the longest demonstration rides in the history of San Bruno's auto row started last week.

Herman Cicchini, a salesman for B & M Used Cars, last Thursday told police a well-dressed man walked onto the company's lot at 240 El Camino Real and asked to have a car demonstrated.

Cicchini said the man was given a set of keys for a two-tone black and brown sedan with white interior and he drove off.

Salesman Cicchini at last report still was waiting for him to come back.

Site Fund Approved By School

The Laguna Salada Union School District Board of Trustees has approved an application for $335,200 for purchase of the Park Pacifica elementary school site.

School officials would not disclose location of the site until negotiations with the owners, Challenge Develpments, have been completed.

The sum is an "outside" figure and includes property, escrow, appraisal and boundary survey costs.

John C. Munt, assistant district superintendent, and John Segall, deputy district attorney, met with representatives of the landowners last week to discuss appraisals for the site.

Negotiations with the City of Pacifica for an adjacent parcel were also underway, according to Munt.

Completion date for the school is scheduled for November, 1967.

Jefferson Gets Federal Grant

Congressman J. Arthur Younger announced Saturday that under the Co-operative Research Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Jefferson Elementary School has received a grant of $8,580.

The grant will be used to explore ways to integrate audio-visual media with elementary school instructional practices.

John Belforte of Jefferson Elementary School has been named to head the project.

D.C. Installs New Skyline Reflectorized Buttons

The Daly City Public Works Department has installed 300 reflectorized buttons on Skyline Drive after a successful year's trial.

City Engineer Art Reschke said city crews installed the buttons, using an epoxy cement, in less than three hours last week.

Thirty-five of the buttons had been installed along Skyline Drive by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company on a trial basis at no cost to the city.

Reschke pointed out that this street was chosen for the best installation because of its foggy conditions during commute hours.

"In addition to being highly visible in fog and rain," the engineer explained, "these buttons also produce a noticeable rumble when a vehicle crosses them."

He added that "many comments" had been received from Daly City residents who cited the effectiveness of the buttons "and to ask us if they could be installed along the entire length of the street."

The cost to the city was $135, Reschke said, noting that the free buttons installed by 3-M a year ago "are still in good condition and give the same effect."

P-TA Gift to D.C. School Is Accepted

The Hillside Parent-Teachers' Association has given $100 to the Colma kindergarten-sixth grade school in Daly City to purchase curriculum social studies books.

Official acceptance of the gift was made at the Jefferson Elementary School District Board meeting Monday night.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas remarked that there was apparently no set policy on the use of such a gift, and suggested that the board draft a policy for discussion.

Window Broken, TV Sets Stolen

Burglars smashed a plate glass window at Lee's TV, 140 North B Street, early today and made off with three portable television sets, San Mateo police report.

Rec Dept.'s Senior Teens Slate Dance

The newly organized Jefferson Senior High Teen Club has scheduled a band dance for War Memorial Community Center.

The club's membership drive begins at this dance. Those joining the club at the June 24 dance will be admitted free.

Requirements for membership in the club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, are:

The member must be a high school student attending Jefferson High School or living within the school's boundaries, he or she must fill out an application and submit it with the 50 cents summer membership fee and a recent picture, to be placed on the membership card.

Membership forms are now available at the Recreation Department office in the War Memorial Community Center.

A calendar of the club's summer activities will be given to all those attending the dance. High school students planning to attend are reminded that they must present a student body or school library card for admission to the dance.

Winston Manor Planning "Old-Fashioned" Fourth

"A good old-fashioned, patriotic Fourth of July celebration" will be held in Winston Manor, South San Francisco, on that date.

Sponsored by the Winston Manor Home Owner's Association, the event will include a parade, games, contests, relay races, prize awards and refreshments.

"Our community, consisting of 327 homes, feels that this is one way we can show our children a few of the good old-fashioned patriotic Fourth of July traditions handed down to us by our forefathers," comments Betty N. Hughes, secretary of the association.

During the past month, President Ray Schoen has held two special meetings of the Association Board of Directors to organize the agenda for the festivities.

Committees have been formed, and all members of the board are participating, including Clinton Childs, Glade Manwill, Frank Dumser, Alex Kanihan and Joe Guillory.

The Fourth will be "a big day for the children." First, second and third-place prizes will be awarded for the best decorated vehicles — floats, bicycles, wagons, tricycles and buggies.

Similar prizes will be awarded in boys' and girls' divisions for the first three places for costumes.

A queen contest will be held with judges being Art Baca, Stan Wright and Joe Guillory.

The committee is requesting a Marine honor guard, according to chairman Glade Manwill.

Lee Wright is heading the prizes and ribbons committee; Clint Childs, transportation committee — Childs is providing a truck, sound equipment and cars for honored guests.

Childs will also act as emcee at the festivities.

The board has also contacted the city park and recreation department for use of facilities; booths and refreshment stands are already in production, under supervision of Baca.

The festivities commence at 10 a.m. with a parade, starting from Arling and El Camino Real and continuing through the tract past the reviewing stand at the playground.

Many dignitaries are expected to be on hand from South San Francisco to participate in the parade, judge and award prizes.

After the parade and reviewing stand ceremonies, games, contests and relay races will be held, according to age groups.

Throughout the day, refreshments will be sold at nominal fee.

"We know of no other small community in the entire Bay Area that recognizes our nation's birthday with a celebration of this type," says Mrs. Hughes.

State College Classes Open

All classes are still open for admission at San Francisco State College for the fall semester, Dr. Larry L. Foster, associate dean of admissions, announced this week from the Lake Merced campus. He advised interested students to apply as soon as possible.

"Plans to increase substantially our enrollment to more than 17,000 students," Dean Foster said, "permit the college to admit many more students.

Soccer and Signs Debated By South S.F. Council

South San Francisco city councilmen spent a brief but busy evening Monday night, in a meeting which included consideration of such diverse subjects as sign permits and soccer.

The soccer issue was raised by Antonio Montoya, who said he and others have organized a soccer league for youngsters 17 and under and cannot find any place to practice.

He was joined by Morris Slater, who told the council that three parish teams in the city have been unable to obtain use of suitable playing fields for their games.

Councilmen asked the two to meet with the city manager and recreation director to find a solution to their problems.

Signs popped up in recommendations from the planning commission.

On the advice of that body, the council approved relocation of one sign and the continuation of another in the Person and Swanson Industrial Tract, provided the signs are repainted.

A request from the International Inn to locate a sign on a city right-of-way was given approval in principle; the city must approve the sign itself, however, before one could be erected.

Conditions imposed with the approval include "significantly upgraded landscaping" by the Inn, as well as other provisions.

City property also figured in a request from Pyramid Van Lines to locate a truck scale partly on South Airport Boulevard right of way. The council approved, and set a $60 per year fee for the easement, as recommended by City Manager Eugene Aiello.

Several other firms, Aiello noted, already encroach on city property in the area, largely for parking purposes.

Othe action saw resolutions officially proclaiming June 19-25 Burglary Prevention Week, making Parkway Avenue between Telford and Orange Avenues one-way westbound, and commending Robert Lambertson, who has resigned from the city's cleanup committee after guiding South San Francisco to a national award for civic cleanliness last year.

The council also approved a revised tentative map of Westborough West Park unit number one.

WOODLAKE SUN JUNE EDITION

TENNIS PROS JOIN WOODLAKE STAFF

TWO STARS EXPAND WOODLAKE PROGRAM

"It's tremendously exciting to be teaching at Woodlake," says tennis pro Jack Long, former junior champion from Texas, who has taught at both Ladero Oaks and Berkeley Tennis Club. "With four top-grade tennis courts literally within minutes of one's living room, it's just about all anyone who enjoys tennis could ask for."

Jack has taken over the complete Woodlake tennis instruction program. Later this month he will be joined by last year's State Junior College Champion Raul Contreras. Raul has taught at various top-flight clubs and comes to Woodlake after competing this year in the National N.C.A.A. finals in Miami, Florida. His brother Pancho is captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team.

"What strikes me as most effective about the Woodlake program," Jack told the Woodlake Sun, "is the unique idea of having a Spa together with the tennis courts. This of course is only one of the marked improvements that Woodlake can offer over, say, regular swimming and tennis clubs.

"Further, there's just that much more actual playing time because it isn't necessary to make a special journey merely to get to the courts. So you play more often, which means a more relaxed game. And," he added, "soon one is playing a much better game."

Use of the tennis courts is free to all Woodlake residents, as is the Spa, health club, sauna and Woodlake's seven swimming pools. Now, with Jack Long and Raul Contreras at the teaching helm, look for a very special tennis season at Woodlake.

Tennis anyone?

ARTIST'S STUDIO

An artist's studio, located near the "West End" of the putting green, opened this week.

The studio is available to all residents artistically (or not) inclined. It's free, and no reservations are needed. Several group activities have already been arranged for the Fall, including an Arts & Crafts instruction course. Meantime, just set up your easel, bring along your model, slap into the paint pot, and go.

LIVE ACTIVELY! OR LIVE SERENELY 'ROUND A RIPPLING LAKE

This is the quiet heart of Woodlake, a rippling lake that gently swirls through the center of a green six-acre private park. Pause and rest awhile, or cross over a slatted bridge to a peaceful island with full barbecue facilities. Nearby is Woodlake's main swimming pool (one of seven). A few steps further along a winding tree-shaded footpath brings you to the Spa. This attractive two-story pavilion houses a gymnasium, sauna baths, exercise rooms, billiard rooms, color TV lounges, library, and is surrounded by four championship tennis courts, an 18-hole putting green and a therapeutic pool. All available, free, every day of the year, to Woodlake residents.

Mr. Froggy Goes A Courtin'...

Actually, it wasn't one but two frogs who went courting victory at the famed Calaveros County Frog Jumping Contest in May. Entered by the residents of Woodlake, the frogs were coached by former U.S. Olympic high-jump star Pat Winslow, who represented the U.S. at both the Rome 1960, and Tokyo 1964 Olympics.

The frogs, with the appropriate names of "Woody" and "Lakey" were probably the best trained entrants in the contest . . . having had the Woodlake sauna baths and exercise rooms at their disposal. They also had access to Woodlake's seven swimming ponds (or rather, pools) during their training program.

Coach Winslow reports that while alas neither won, they "both acquitted themselves with honor and nobility in the finest tradition of good sportsmanship and athletic competition." To which we can only leap in and say: "Splashing!"

CLOSED-CIRCUIT TV

CLASSIC COMEDY MONTH

The following full-length features will be shown this month, without commercial interruption, on Woodlake's private closed-circuit television channel (13). Previous showings have included a Humphrey Bogart Festival, Best Remembered Musicals, and Grand Parade of Academy Awards.

BRIDGE IN THE MORNING

Woodlake bridge afficionados and their guests can be found starting their bridge day early on Tuesdays at 10:30 in the morning at the Spa. The Tuesday-morning duplicate game is in addition to the regular beginners class every Tuesday at 7:30 P.M. under the excellent direction of Ernest Rovere. This class is open to all Woodlake residents, free of charge. Morning or evening, every Tuesday is "Bridge-day" at Woodlake.

LADIES GATHER FOR RELAXING SCHEDULE

When the ladies of Woodlake get together—just about anything can happen! Meeting on a regular basis, activities of the Women's Club range from charity benefits, exploring the art of antiquing, flower arrangements, fashion shows, afternoon card sessions to participating in the "inscrutable intricacies" of Mah Jong. Open to all women residents of Woodlake, an election of officers and committee members are both on the club's active coming agenda.

Old Fashioned July 4th Picnic

Woodlakers are readying for an old-fashioned July 4th picnic including music, refreshments, dancing and a fireworks display.

"Miss Woodlake" will be selected and crowned at the celebration. A traditional cake sale will take place and prizes awarded for swimming, diving, a potato sack race, putting, penny pitching and a pie-eating contest.

Residents' guests are invited, so—who do you know at Woodlake?

TV Cable Is Being Put In At Pacifica

The Pacifica Cable Company is installing a new television cable system throughout the city, hoping to improve reception in that area.

Under a franchise agreement with the City of Pacifica, the company also will extend the cable into each school building it passes.

Except for the Pacific Heights and Portola schools, located in the San Bruno area, the cable will be installed in 11 schools in the Laguna Salada Union District.

Construction of a TV receiving tower in Linda Mar is underway.

Upon completion, the tower is expected to provide good reception from eight TV stations—five in the Bay Area, one in Stockton, one in Sacramento and one at the College of San Mateo.

Bruno Crime Said up By 13 Percent

With the long, hot summer at hand, San Bruno Police reported last week that crimes were up 13 per cent last month over May 1965, and up nearly the same per cent over April, too.

There were 75 reported crimes in the city in May, as compared to last year's 66, and April's 64.

They included 25 burglaries, 6 grand thefts, 29 petty thefts, a robbery, an assault, and 13 auto thefts.

Auto accidents too increased during May. Police reported one fatality, three pedestrian injuries, 12 injury accidents and 53 crashes involving only damage to property.

During the month, officers issued 1776 citations, nearly half of them for parking violations. There were 717 citations for moving violations, and two arrests.

School's Out, More Grass Fires Seen

A rash of grass fires plagued Peninsula firefighters Friday—the eve of summer school vacation for thousands of Bay Area school children.

Most of the fires, which caused relatively little damage, were blamed on "over-exuberant children," by a Pacifica fire official.

San Bruno fire marshal Harper Petersen said he expected "quite a few such fires now that the summer vacation period is underway."

San Bruno was hit with seven grass fires in a 12-hour period, while South San Francisco called out their department to fight three fires and Pacifica responded to two.
